Global Alliance for
Inter- and Transdisciplinarity

ITD Alliance Membership Quick Facts

ITD ALLIANCE

The Global Alliance for Inter- and Transdisciplinarity \(ITD Alliance\) strengthens and promotes the global capacity and the calibre of collaborative modes of boundary-crossing research and practice.

The goal of the ITD Alliance is to link networks, associations, institutions, and individuals with shared interest in interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary theories, methods, and practices for addressing complex problems and questions. It increases visibility and coalesces work currently dispersed across the world by catalysing greater collaboration for societal problem solving and understanding of complex issues while promoting inter- and transdisciplinarity.

The ITD Alliance offers a home base for all institutions and individuals engaged in collaborative modes of research.

INSTITUTIONAL MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

The ITD Alliance is currently the only global professional society representing the interests of institutions undertaking inter- and transdisciplinary research and education.

Benefits of institutional membership include:

- Global visibility as an institutional leader in the practice, promotion and development of collaborative modes of research and education
- A stronger, collective voice when informing change in research, education and funding policy affecting inter- and transdisciplinarity
- Opportunities to network and share experiences and resources with like-minded institutions
- Opportunities to shape the future direction of ITD Alliance activities for global impact
- Influence on the direction of the ITD Alliance through the General Assembly and election of the Leadership Board
- Free individual memberships (value of CHF 100 each) for a number of employees and students, dependent on the size of the institution

INDIVIDUAL MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

Individual members benefit from:

- Being part of a dynamically growing community of experts and leading institutions in inter- and transdisciplinarity
